

DEC-29-2014-UPDATE

Email I just got

Just curios why you are focusing on the 3rd digit? Looking at the history of when there is a missing day (or blackout day) in the month of December, there have been 7 missing days (we will say 6 since we don't know what the draw today is yet). With that being said, this would have worked 3X out of the 6 focusing on the 3rd digit in the 52 box. That is half the time. In November there were 3 misses. Out of those 3, 1X the 3rd digit would have hit in the 52 numbers the next day. I didn't go back any further to test it.

So I am guessing if your 3rd digit didn't hit today in either draw (but the basic box did hit) you would go back to playing the basic box again like usual.

My RESPONSE

The basic box system stands: I am just doing one of my little experiments.

Right now I am playing around and experimenting with different things that I am beginning to notice about this system.

One of those things is that the most due of the 3 digits tends to hit next - or soon after. Right now in New York that happens to be the 3rd digit - which for today is the digit 9.

Good for Monday Dec 29

And I don't recommend you look at the 3 digits the way you are looking at them. Your reference point has to be today.

In other words, as of today, which of the 3 digits has not hit?

Which digit is most due?

That's the digit you focus on today.

And here is the trick; you have to stick with it until it hits...because it WILL hit.

I can say that with confidence now because I have been tracking this program for several months and now I am very confident about what numbers (or key digits) will hit next.

However, the only way you can stick with that digit is to make the playlist as short as possible.

That is why in the report I sent last night I cross-referenced all the 36 numbers for the digit 9 with the 52 inside/core numbers in the Group Matching System program to make the list as short as possible. Doing this brought the playlist down to just 21 numbers (much better than 36 numbers).

And as I said, this list could be played for just $5.25 at 5dimes (all 21 numbers played for 0.25 cents). The payout would be $37.50 if one of the numbers hits today.
