

Two Exciting Announcements!

I have 2 exciting announcements.

First, I am working on a draw to draw follower system for New York. This follower system will be fixed. I am thinking of having both a fixed list and a program for this system. The list and program will give the same numbers. This system will tell you the exact numbers to play after each number. The great thing about this system is that the numbers will be good for just ONE drawing. One thing; if this system is as powerful and accurate as I think it will be, I may put it on a separate site.

This is how this system works; if the number 512 hit last night, you would look at the list of followers and look for the number 125. It will have a list of numbers to play right after 125 hits. Those will be the numbers to play for the next drawing. If 370 hit next, you would look at the list of numbers for 037 to know what numbers to play next, and so forth. This is the most powerful system I have ever come up with because all you need to know is the last number that hit to know what numbers to play next; that's amazing!

If this works, it will change everything!

This list will be super accurate because it will be based on 5 to 10 years worth of actual NY drawings. This system should be ready in a month or two.

Next, I am working on a completely separate Kindle money making system. These are the downloadable eBooks you buy at Amazon and other online stores. I have been researching this for some time because I found out that I can take the reports that I am already writing and sell them on Amazon for a small profit. However, I can scale up and put up many eBooks and make more money. And I found out something else: There are many people making $10,000 a month and more selling these Kindle eBooks on Amazon.

Now, for the most amazing thing; you do NOT have to write these eBooks yourself; the writing can be outsourced. You can actually go to Odesk (<https://www.odesk.com>) or Elance (<https://www.elance.com>) and other sites and get people to write the eBook for you! (for a price of course). What I will do is write up reports explaining what I am learning so those on my coaching program can benefit. So these will be Members-Only reports.
