

218 Hit in the Evening

The digit 0 did not hit today - but I still think that I had a “successful” day.

I say that because today I LEARNED something.

And any day you learn something in the Pick 3 game is a successful day as far as I am concerned.

Here is what I learned;

An outside number hitting is a stronger trigger than a due digit.

In other words, if I see one of the outside numbers hitting, I should then play the 52 numbers, no matter what digit is due.

Let me explain: there are 33 outside numbers and 52 inside numbers in the 85 Basic Box numbers. The 33 number are in red along the outside border below.

The 52 numbers are inside; they are highlighted in yellow below. ($33 + 52 = 85$)

012	013	014	015	016	017	018	019	023	024	025	026	027	028	029
034	035	036	037	038	039	045	046	047	048	049	056	057	058	059
067	068	069	078	079	089	128	129	138	139	148	149	158	159	168
169	178	179	189	238	239	248	249	258	259	268	269	278	279	289
348	349	358	359	368	369	378	379	389	458	459	468	469	478	479
489	568	569	578	579	589	678	679	689	789	(85)

Keep this in mind: When you see an outside number, an inside number will follow.

33 → 52

When I saw this yesterday, I should have automatically predicted that one of the 52 numbers would hit next.

Good for Tuesday Dec 30
