

How to Win $9000 Playing Win 4

EMAIL I JUST GOT

Let me start by stating I have had my share of hacking problems which included stolen credit card numbers and fraudulent charge problems, some of which thankfully were caught early by the card companies. I have never used 5dimes and after reading your excellent report, I probably would not consider doing so. Within this context my question below may be more understandable. At Book-3's end you mention Book-4 and the Database ---a new reduction method. I plan to order the recent all states playlist Report (as soon as I can reactivate an old Pay Pal account I had set up for my kids while away at college--that was years ago). Will the Book-4 database "work" with the recent All states playlist sufficiently well enough to play Pick 3 in Ct where I live?

MY RESPONSE

By the way....I did not say that using 5dimes is bad (I still use it). What I said is that you should not fund your account with any payment method tied to a personal account (credit card, bank account, Paypal, etc.).

5dimes is running a scam in the background with people's personal information (see the end of Book-3) - but they will pay you what you win. For example, if you win $900 on a $1 straight hit, they WILL pay you. Just make sure you fund your account with Money Gram....or some of the other ways I mentioned in Book-3 that are not tied to any personal account.

But given what I have learned recently, Book-4 will be different than what I originally planned. I will now standardize the playlist for all the keys - so what numbers to play will not be an issue any more.

That's right; I will come up with a FIXED list of numbers to play for all the keys; so what numbers to play will no longer be an issue.

What will be an issue is tracking the wins per week and which weeks are hot or cold; this will determine if you play in a particular week or not - and if you should put more or less money on the numbers (that is why 5dimes is still useful; putting an additional 0.25 or 0.50 on the numbers can yield huge profits).

I will try to get Book-4 up on Amazon before January 1.

It will be AMAZING!

And speaking of amazing things; I am working on a FIXED playlist for the Pick 4/Win 4 game. The format of this list will be the same as the Key Playlist Report that some members have purchased.

The system will be the same: you will get a three digit KEY based on the last number or numbers that hit (there is a special workout required for the Win 4 game). Once you get the key, say 136, you go to the report and look for key 136. The numbers to play for the next 4 DRAWINGS will be listed (the timeline is different for the Win 4 game).

I am still working on the playlist (should be ready soon) – but this tells you WHY I am planning to keep using 5dimes (intelligently):

they pay an amazing $9000 on a $1 straight hit. You will NOT find this payout anywhere – so I am willing to overlook what they are doing in the background.

However, this is down the line; first I have to see how accurate the list is and how much will be required to spend per week. And also, at first, the numbers will have to be played BOX – the straight plays will come late – assuming one has the Bankroll to pull it off.

I will keep everybody updated – but Book-4 should be up this month and the preliminary playlist for the Win 4 game should be ready in about two weeks.
